INTRODUCTION
The 11th International Hydrogeological Congress of Greece, focused on the groundwater vulnerability, will be held in Athens, Greece, October 4-6, 2017. It is hosted by the Hellenic Committee of Hydrogeology, in collaboration with the Association of Geologists and Mining Engineers of Cyprus. The members of the Hellenic Committee of Hydrogeology are also members of the International Association of Hydrogeologists (I.A.H.) and the Geological Society of Greece. The Congress is aimed at scientists, researchers, students, government officials and experts dealing with groundwater and the environment. Its main objective is the exchange of ideas and experience, as well as the dissemination of knowledge relating to the contribution of the natural environment to the protection of aquifers against the qualitative and quantitative degradation and to the limitation of their vulnerability.

MAIN TOPICS
• General Hydrogeology
• Environmental Hydrogeology / Groundwater Vulnerability/Protection zones
• Applied Hydrogeology/Groundwater Engineering
• Groundwater Hydraulics
• Groundwater and Engineering Geology
• Groundwater Management and Sustainable Development
• Karst Hydrogeology
• Hydrogeology of Fissured Rocks
• Hydrology- Interaction of Surface and Ground Waters
• Hydrogeochemistry and Isotopic Hydrogeology
• Geothermics and Thermal Waters
• Mine water management
• Climate Change and Groundwater
• Management of Aquifer Recharge
• Natural Hazards and Ground Water
• Remote Sensing and Water Environment
• Economics, Policy and Water Resources Legal Framework

CONGRESS ACTIVITIES
• Opening ceremony
• Keynote lectures
• Oral presentations
• Poster and Technical Sessions
• Round-Table discussions
• Post-congress fieldtrip

LANGUAGE
The official languages of the Congress are Greek and English, with simultaneous translation.
